

CYCLONE KILLS CHILD AND DESTROYS SEVERAL FARM HOUSES

Twister Struck Home of Horace Fuller, East of Elba, Killing Six-Year-Old Daughter; Wife Badly Injured. Several Negroes Hurt.

One dead, one seriously injured and a score or more slightly injured with a half-dozen or more houses completely destroyed is the toll of a cyclone which struck about three and a half miles east of Elba Tuesday morning between ten and eleven o'clock.

The only death was that of little Horace Fuller, about five or six years of age, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Fuller, who was crushed to death when the Fuller home was struck and torn to atoms. Mrs. Fuller and another daughter about sixteen months of age escaped with their lives, but the mother is in Memorial hospital at Enterprise suffering from a broken arm, both hips crushed and other injuries received when she was caught under a falling wall of the building. Although her injuries are quite serious it is thought that they will be fatal. The infant was not injured in the crash of the home, but suffered from the exposure. She was ill of influenza, so it is said.

General Donaldson, a colored man, suffered two or three broken ribs and his wife and others of his household received minor injuries when their home was destroyed. Eight or ten colored people in another house near the Elba-Enterprise Highway escaped serious injury when this house was struck and scattered in bits over a large area. Nearly all of the occupants were bruised or slightly hurt, but their injuries were slight.

The cyclone covered a path from one hundred yards in width and from reports received here extended over a stretch of about seven or eight miles. From accounts we have been able to gather the first damage was reported at the farm of Mr. Walter Mock on the Elba-Samson road. His barn was razed, having been torn to shreds and scattered several hundred yards. A wind mill, water tower and other buildings were blown down or destroyed. Two mules and a cow were injured on this farm. The cyclone was traveling in a Northern or Northeasterly direction. It was also reported that from Mr. Mack's place along the road to Buck's Creek some buildings were blown down, and where timbered lands were in the path large and small trees were uprooted, blown down or twisted. Here the five-room residence occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Fuller was completely demolished, together with the roof and walls of a large storage house, and a portion of the large barn. Bits of lumber, roofing and household goods were scattered over the fields for a distance of a mile or more.

Mrs. Fuller stated, according to reports, that when the house was torn to rock that she gathered her infant daughter in her arms and attempted to gather her other daughter, but the house gave way and was torn to pieces in an instant. Mrs. Fuller was caught under a wall of the building on the instant. Mrs. Fuller was caught under a wall of the building on the instant.

The next house demolished was that occupied by General Donaldson and his family on the Marshall plantation near the Coast Line Railroad. Donaldson received two or three broken ribs and other injuries and members of his family were also slightly injured.

Just across the Elba-Enterprise Highway from the Donaldson house another house occupied by Annie Thacker and her family was razed. There were eight or ten colored people in the house when it was struck, but all escaped without serious injury. Several were cut, scratched or bruised, but were all right after receiving first aid treatment.

Shiloh Baptist Church, one of the oldest colored churches in the section of the country, was swept away when the wind struck in the bottom in which it was located. Large and small trees alike were left uprooted, broken off and twisted in a mass when the cyclone had passed over.

One or two houses farther to the North of the church were damaged, according to reports, but it seems that the worst damage was on the Boyd and Marsh farms. Other buildings in the edge of the area were blown from their foundations, and chimneys were blown down.

A light rain fell in the path of the cyclone. At Elba one of the heaviest rains in several months fell, and throughout the rain hailstones as large as China berries were plentiful, but it lasted only a few minutes, and skies were clear again.

Alabama Auto Accident Deaths Show Increase

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 28.—Automobile accidents caused 159 deaths in Alabama last year, an increase of 14 or 3.1 per cent over 1929, records compiled here show.

The reports say that motor vehicle deaths in the State, however, did not increase as much as the rate of increase for the country as a whole. The death toll for the United States was 32,500 for the year, an increase 4.5 per cent over 1929.

The East South Central group of States, composed of Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee and Kentucky, reported an increase of nearly 11 per cent in motor vehicle deaths for the year. Alabama's increase was not as great as that for Tennessee and Kentucky, but was more than the gain reported for Mississippi.

More than 1,200 persons have been killed and fatally injured in automobile accidents in Alabama, the records show. Automobile accidents and the number of persons injured throughout the country the year past increased more than the rate of increase in fatalities, statistics for a number of States show.

More than 855,000 motor vehicles accidents marked highways throughout the country last year causing injuries to 962,000 persons in addition to the 32,500 fatalities.

SMALL FIRE MONDAY

Elba's volunteer fire fighters were called out Monday afternoon about 2:30, to the residence of Mrs. Willie Michel on Davis St. A small hole was burned in the roof before the flames were extinguished. A number of household articles were damaged by water. It is not known how the fire originated.

The next house demolished was that occupied by General Donaldson and his family on the Marshall plantation near the Coast Line Railroad. Donaldson received two or three broken ribs and other injuries and members of his family were also slightly injured.

Just across the Elba-Enterprise Highway from the Donaldson house another house occupied by Annie Thacker and her family was razed. There were eight or ten colored people in the house when it was struck, but all escaped without serious injury. ## $300,000 Is Fire Loss At Dothan Lumber Mill

DOTHAN, Ala., March 27.—The Rambo Lumber Company's loss in the fire that razed storage yards Tuesday afternoon was between $300,000 and $350,000, Charles Sealey, general manager, reported.

Mr. Sealey's report also stated that there were approximately 11,519,000 feet of lumber, most of it hardwood, destroyed by the blaze. There are eight of us Alabama guys up here. New enrollments every day, so I'm looking for some more of you guys to call me. We are greatly indebted to chemists for working it out for us.

The development is of peculiar interest in view of the fact that many cotton growers now living recall the time when cotton seed was a waste product, being a nuisance at first.

KNUTE ROCK NE, FAMOUS COACH, IS DEAD IN AIR CRASH

BAZAR, Kas., March 31.—Knute Rockne, Notre Dame football genius, plunged to his death with five fellow passengers and two pilots on a Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., air liner today in the mid-Kansas grazing country near here. The plane was California bound from Kansas City.

The crash killed all eight occupants instantly. Witnesses said the craft, flying through clouds and fog, lost a wing in the air.

First reports left there had been an explosion in the air and that the wreckage burned proved unfounded.

The dead:

Knute Rockne.

H. J. Christensen, Chicago.

W. E. Miller, Hartford, Conn.

Spencer Caldwell, New York.

C. A. Roberts, Wheeling West Virginia.

Robert Fry, pilot, Los Angeles.

Jess Mahan, pilot, Los Angeles.

The body of Rockne was identified by W. L. White, son of William Alan White, of the Emporia Gazette. The famous coach boarded the plane just before its departure from Kansas City in mid-morning, at 9:15 a. m. He was bound for Wichita to complete arrangements for making a feature talking picture and several short subjects.

By a margin of minutes he missed seeing his sons, Knute, Jr., 14, and Billy, 11, who returned to a Kansas City school from visiting their mother at Coral Gables, Fla. Rockne left the station 30 minutes before their arrival in order to reach the airport in time for his plane's scheduled departure at 8:30. It was then held up 45 minutes by delayed mail.

The plane was in radio communication with the Kansas City airport until it sighted the Canadian coast, southwest of Bazar. It asked for weather conditions at Wichita. Then communication was interrupted approximately at the scene of the accident.

Clarence McCracken and C. Carpenter, ranch hands, saw the big ship rocket out of a fog bank and spin to earth.

Describing the tragedy, McCracken said he and Carpenter heard the plane above the clouds and glanced upward from their cattle feeding.

A moment later the plane nosed through the clouds, fell into a spin and came roaring earthward. A wing tore away, Carpenter said, and fluttered to earth a quarter of a mile from the wreckage some moments later.

Dr. Jacob Hinden, coroner, said four of the bodies were thrown clear of the plane. None, he said, was burned.

The plane hit the soft earth half a mile from the ranch hands, one of the three motors burying itself. The eight bodies, so mutilated that identification was difficult, were taken to Cottonwood Falls.

A watch stopped at 10:45 a.m. was found in the wreckage.

In the wreckage in addition to the 63 pounds and 6 ounces of mail carried by the plane, was found a quantity of football equipment. No express had been carried, and no express assumed by the officials that it had been in the baggage of Rockne or Hopper, a sporting goods salesman.

SLASH PINE PAPER

Recent investigations into the suitability of slash pine for the production of newsprint paper have been of practical interest to publishers of newspapers and readers as well, because it has long been feared that with the depletion of Canadian forests a paper famine might ultimately result.

After exhaustive tests, Dr. Chas.

H. Harty, former president of the American Chemical Society, dis-clares Southern slash pine is as well adapted to paper making as Canadian spruce, while it can be delivered to the mills at a much lower price. He states that Canadian spruce wood costs $18 or more per cord, but that the slash pine can be delivered at a much lower cost.

Practically unlimited quantities of this pine are available in Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Georgia, South Carolina and Florida.

According to Dr. Harty, who has made this optimistic prediction:

"I believe that I shall live to see the day when the United States will be able to produce all the paper it needs from its own forests."
